

How will you use your RRSP and TFSA savings?

You can use the money you've saved in your RRSP or TFSA in a variety of different ways:

RRSP		TFSA
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Retirement	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> One time tax free withdrawal under the Home buyer's plan	Down Payment for a Home	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> One time tax free withdrawal under the Lifelong learning plan	Education	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
	Emergency fund	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
	Vacations	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
	Big Ticket Items	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

Rules about re-contributing withdrawals

Be careful! Once you take money out, the contribution room is lost forever, except in the case of the Home buyer's plan or Lifelong learning plan.

You must wait until the next calendar year to re-contribute your withdrawal.
